WASHINGTON CITY

Proclamation Against the Ku Klux.

WASHINGTON May 4 —Proclamation The act of Congress entitled An Act to enforce provisions of the Fourteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, and for other purposes" approved April 20th A D 1871 being a law of extraordinary public importance, I consider it my duty to issue this my Proclamation, calling the attention of the people of the United States thereto, enjoining upon all good citizens, and especially upon public officers to be zealous in the enforcement thereof and warning all persons to abstain from committing any acts thereby prohibited The law of Congress applies to all parts of the United States, and will be enforced everywhere to the extent of the powers vested in the Executive; but inasmuch as the necessity therefor is well known to have been caused chiefly by persistent violation of the rights of citizens of the United States by combinations of lawless and disaffected persons in certain localities, lately the theater of insurrection and military conflict, I do particularly exhort the people of those parts of the country to suppress all such combinations by their own voluntary efforts, through the agency of local laws and to maintain the rights of all citizens of the United States and to secure to all such citizens equal protection of the laws Fully sensible of the responsibility imposed upon the Executive by the act of Congress to which public opinion is now called and reluctant to call into exercise any of the extraordinary powers thereby conferred upon me, except in cases of imperative necessity I do nevertheless, deem it my duty to make known that I will not hesitate to exhaust the power thus vested in the Executive whenever and wherever it shall be necessary to do so for the purpose of securing to citizens of the United States the peaceful enjoyment of rights guaranteed to them by the Constitution and laws

It is my earnest wish that peace and cheerful obedience to the laws may prevail throughout the land, and all traces of the late unhappy civil strife may be speedily removed These ends can be easily reached by acquiescence in the results of the conflict, now written in our Constitution, and by due and proper enforcement of equal just and impartial laws in every part of our country The failure of local communities to furnish such means for the attainment of a result so earnestly desired imposes upon the National Government the duty of putting forth all its energies for the protection of its citizens of every race and color, and for the restoration of peace and order throughout the entire county.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed Done at the city of Washington D C, May the third in the year of our Lord 1871 and of the independence of the United States the ninety fifth

(Signed) U S GRANT President
HAMILTON FISH, Secretary of State

EASTERN STATES

Whisky Frauds in Baltimore

Kentucky Politics.

LOUISVILLE May 4 —The Democratic Convention at Frankfort yesterday nominated P H Leslie present acting Governor for Governor by 688 to 412 for J Proctor Knott

Enforcement of the Ku Klux Bill

NEW YORK May 4 —The Times special says this morning there is good authority for the report that the President will take active measures for enforcing the Ku Klux law passed during the last session of Congress The only circumstance which will be likely to cause delay is the absence of the Secretary of War.

The President remarked since his return from the West, that he should not go to California until he had initiated measures in accordance with the provisions of that law, for the protection of the loyal people of the South

The Joint High Commission.

A correspondent says many efforts have been made it is alleged, by the Joint High Commission to prejudice the treaty beforehand in the minds of the people, and to create a false impression as to its contents The most noticeable is that which seeks to convey the belief the American Commissioners have allowed the claims of the British subjects to be put down as a set off to the Alabama claims and allowed them to enter into the base of settlement to the amount of about thirty million dollars It is stated in the public prints that the English Commissioners have presented a claim to be considered for slaves owned by English subjects and freed by the United States Government during the war As British laws make the holding of slaves by English subjects a felony the subject of this report is apparent. There is also authority for the statement that all reports regarding the counter claims of England are false and malicious

Dispatch from Jamaica

KINGSTON Jamaica May 3 —The jury in the case of Chas Levy & Co against Dickson, an American captain of the wrecked brig Florence returned a verdict for defendant The jurors were six to one and were out ten minutes Voluntary contributions are freely made to Dickson The plaintiffs are likely to continue the case to the Supreme Court and even to England.

PERSONAL NOTES

Gen Gordon Granger has been sent to command the troops in New Mexico

A New Hampshire young lady Mary Brockway recently celebrated her 104th birthday in East Washington by splitting and carrying into the house half a cord of wood

One of the insurgent leaders of Paris is Emile Blanchette a well known barber of the Latin Quarter, and two other leaders were once pastry cooks at the Hotel de Bristol

A few papers are proposing Horace Greeley as a candidate for President in 1872 This is one of the impracticable suggestions that are often made in politics

William W Ward the Chancellor of Memphis Tenn formerly a prominent rebel leader under John Morgan a violent advocate of State sovereignty and of the divine right to hold niggers died recently in that city

Honest Bayonets vs False Ballots

[From the Sacramento Union April]

Ex Senator Hendricks in response to the compliment of a serenade offered him at the Golden Eagle Hotel in this city on Monday night, leveled the customary Democratic shots at the use of the bayonet in elections This is a popular theme which never fails to elicit cheers from those who regard the voting privilege as something to be made the most of by fair means or foul for the interest of a party and also by many honest people who are satisfied with one vote at each election. We are not displeased at a public opinion which regards the use of the bayonet in elections with a jealous eye. But before we condemn it let us first inquire if it is with or without good cause Who usurped this authority or who made the use of the bayonet necessary? When an oligarchy like that of Boss Tweed in the city of New York has managed to plant itself so firmly that it can't be supplanted or restrained from outrage by the ordinary process of law when it can by perjury false naturalization papers repeating and bullying polling at every election just as many votes as are required to turn the politics of the great State of New York when the courts and the Legislature are its creatures winking at excusing and justifying the crimes of the perjurers bullies and repeaters what is to be done Must honest men regard their remedy as concluded and the law as defeated We are told that for every wrong there is a remedy. Certainly there ought to be If the city can t supply it then the State should If neither the city nor State then Congress of the United States should supply the remedy For the infamies of Tammany Hendricks had no word of reproof And yet they are practiced in utter contempt of law and decency and are in their whole nature subversive of government by the people It is the government of an oligarchy in which the use by that oligarchy of 30 000 fictitious names has moved the politics of New York their own way against the will of the majority and might move the politics of the United States the same way in the very next Presidential election but for the bayonets that are authorized to be used to be used not in overawing voters but in executing the law of the land against thieves perjurers bullies and repeaters, every one of whom it would be a mercy to all honest men to hang The use of bayonets in such a case so far from being an abuse to liberty, is liberty's safeguard and the oligarchy s ruin It simply takes away from Tweed & Co the power to change the vote of the State of New York against the will of the majority of lawful voters, by putting on the poll lists of the city 30,000 fictitious names Let these fellows go on unchecked and in five years they would have their machinery so perfected that they might by alliance with other large cities nominate and elect the President of the United States and rule the country as they please There is but one way to end their villainies since they have secured the courts and that is by the use of the bayonet under the lawful authority of Congress

The New Orleans Picayune has the following A gentleman from the country called on a druggist friend in Camp street yesterday They had been boys together and had been life long intimate friends Not having met for some years the interview was a pleasant one, and as our country friend was leaving, the druggist said Come in, Jim and take something with me in and of course a social glass But Jim understood it in quite a different sense and with a hearty "No, I thank you," he exclaimed "but you do you think I take pills for diversion

That was a very happy unconscious pun which Professor —— of Rochester University, perpetrated in his class room the other day He had been dilating, to some extent on the character and career of Eiwarch H n the Norwegian poet and wishing to illustrate the author s style he remarked I will read you one of his lays A slight smile came over the face of a few students t this which gradually spread until the whole class was in a tumult of laughter before the professor saw his joke

Great things are promised to Alsace so soon as peace is formally declared It is to have a university The Strasburg Bibliotheca is to be restored to more than its pristine renown More than 40 000 duplicate volumes have been found for it in one public library alone —that of Konigsberg

Jesse Applegate and J S Howard have taken the field in Southern Oregon with their respective surveying parties, under U S contracts

The Rebel Retreat from Gettysburg

The retreat of Lee s army from the field of Gettysburg is graphically described in the Galaxy, by General Imboden, who had on that terrible day, the command of the rear guard and was in charge of the train of army stores and the ambulances containing the wounded The horrors of the retreat are thus pictured

Some were praying, others were uttering the most fearful oaths and execrations that despair could wring from them in their agony Occasionally a wagon would be passed from which only low deep moans and sobs could be heard No help could be rendered to any of the sufferers On, on we must move The storm continued and the darkness was fearful there was no time even to fill a canteen of water for a dying man for except the drivers and the guards disposed in compact bodies every half mile all were wounded and helpless in that vast train of misery The night was awful, and yet in it was our only safety for no enemy would dare attack us when they couldn t distinguish friend from foe We knew that when day broke upon us we would be harassed by bands of cavalry hanging on our flank Therefore, our aim was to go as far as possible under cover of the night and so we kept on It was my sad lot to pass from the rear to the head of the column and no language can convey an idea of the horrors of that most horrible of all nights of our long and bloody war

LOST ON THE PRAIRIE —A most deplorable event transpired nine miles east of Council Bluffs during a wild storm a few nights ago The Nonpareil thus chronicles it

Two little girls named Robinson aged respectively nine and eleven years were lost on the prairie and one if not both died of exposure to the storm

They were allowed to go upon a visit to the house of a neighbor, distant about a mile They remained there until evening and then started to return The storm had commenced but no apprehension was felt as to their safety As they journeyed on however they lost their way and wandered over the country in all that terrible uproar of the elements, far into the night At last one of them the youngest succumbed to the cold and fatigue and, unable to proceed, lay down and shortly died Her sister, benumbed and wild with grief and terror, stayed near her body for a length of time and then in an almost dying condition endeavored to find the track again She roamed about in this way several hours until at daybreak Monday morning she found herself near home She reached the house and told what had happened when a party was immediately dispatched in search of the other little girl s remains They were found at a comparatively short distance and brought in It is since reported that the eldest girl has died from the effects of the night s events

The Approaching Contest

The New York Times closes a judicious article on the Presidential contest, now rapidly approaching with these remarks

The time is fast approaching when the people must decide whether or not they will withdraw their trust from the Republican party and give it to the Democrats They should not be deceived by the professions of Democratic journals at the North The South is determined to keep up the old contest Under such circumstances the Republicans are the only safe guides They put down the rebellion, and they have restored the States to their original place in the Union The people of the South with some exceptions are in full enjoyment of their political rights Eighteen officers of the rebel army are members of the present Congress This fact proves that proscription is not the policy of the Republican party. Small as the class is which is now deprived of political rights, a bill is before Congress, and has passed one House to make it smaller The time has not arrived for removal of disabilities from Jefferson Davis and a few others like him They are regarded as men of eminent worth at the South and would soon be returned as members of Congress—to "secede" again whenever the prospects of the lost cause brightened

Hon George H Pendleton refuses permission to have his name used as a candidate for Governor of Ohio in the approaching Democratic Convention The name of General George McCook is prominently mentioned in connection with the office but he may like Pendleton decline, for personal reasons In 1868 Pendleton was one of the foremost candidates for the Presidency before the Democratic Convention and would but for the two thirds rule have been nominated He is not without hope that he may receive the nomination in 1872 General McCook is a candidate for Vice President and his friends are already busied in making combinations to bring it about As Pendleton declines in hope of getting the Presidency General McCook may probably imitate him from the hope of securing the Vice Presidency

The Democracy have had luck in the Mississippi Valley this spring After being cleaned out in Dubuque, Milwaukee, Madison Detroit New Albany and Springfield they are routed in their ancient stronghold Quincy They have behaved so corruptly while in control of the municipal government of these cities that the tax payers could stand it no longer and were obliged to eject them from power

The great tobacco culture of Alsace to which Napoleon s continental blockade gave an abnormal development can no longer expect to rely upon the French Government monopoly for its best markets Its metal industries woolen fabrics hosier manufactures are all equally endangered

The Daily Oregonian.

FRIDAY MORNING MAY 5 1871

A Litigant Organ's Misrepresentations

In order to set up a defense for the swindling litigant law—a law which compels unwilling people to advertise in certain so-called litigant organs and to pay therefor at rates far in excess of those which the same organs can get for business advertising,—the Herald publishes this paragraph

The OREGONIAN, yesterday morning gave the Federal Judge of this city a most merciless back handed blow It inveighed against the litigant law [illegible] to advertise in Democratic newspapers. Now the case stands thus The Legislature, having the right has passed a law by which certain papers would get legal advertising The Federal Judge of this district manages matters so that the OREGONIAN gets all of the advertising in cases of bankruptcy The principle is the same in both cases, and to condemn the Legislature is to condemn the Federal Judge The Judge can, with great reason, complain of this blow, given in the house of his friends.

This is about the one hundredth time that the Herald has repeated this farrago of misrepresentation We may as well nail it right here.

The only order which the 'Federal Judge" has ever issued in regard to advertising in cases of bankruptcy is that the said advertisements be printed in a daily newspaper of this city, and, in order that parties interested may know where to look for subsequent notices in any proceeding that has been instituted, he has ordered that such subsequent notices shall be printed in the paper in which the original notice has appeared But he has never designated the OREGONIAN or any other paper as the medium through which the first notices shall be published For a long time after the bankrupt law was passed there was no Register appointed and the Judge administered the law without a Register He always permitted the attorneys to designate what paper they chose, and it was no fault of his if the OREGONIAN was more frequently chosen than the Herald. So stands this matter which that paper has been endeavoring to falsify for a whole year. The "Federal Judge' has never 'managed" or attempted to manage so that the OREGONIAN would get all or any part of this advertising He has not concerned himself in any way about it

We have shown the inveracity, now let us show the inconsistency of the Herald in this matter. Long before the litigant law was enacted, it was accustomed to assert what it still falsely asserts in the paragraph above quoted, viz That the "Federal Judge had ordered all advertising in cases of bankruptcy to be done in the OREGONIAN and on this allegation it denounced him in unmeasured terms But it now says that the alleged practice which it then so vehemently opposed is identical in principle with the litigant law, and is content If 'the principle is the same in both cases" inasmuch as it was wont to condemn the Federal Judge' on the supposition or allegation that he had put it in practice, why does it not now "condemn the Legislature?' On its own showing it has completely reversed its position in this matter. A year ago it denounced in bitter terms a principle which it now approves More, its proprietors, after they had falsely assailed the Federal Judge in this matter, went to the Legislature and procured the enactment of the present litigant law which they now say is identical in principle with the alleged act of the Judge which had been the object of their censure. Thus the inconsistency of the 'litigant organ" has been about as conspicuous as its inveracity

[illegible] the grand jury at its next sitting investigate School Director Dennison's manner of doing public school business? He should have a chance to explain that singular jug[illegible] whereby he takes $100 out of the pocket [illegible] Thomas Stephens, puts it into his own pocket, and makes it appear that the transaction is for the benefit of the District Also, it would be well for him to be permitted to show what benefit the public schools of this city derived from his taking certain sums of the public money to support his dignity as [illegible] tor about the splendid hotels of [illegible] Also, whether Mr McCoy [illegible] the whole of those large torn[illegible] es" or whether they were not [illegible] into the account at the instance of Mr Dennison to make it balance, when he and McCoy found they were short by about that sum

The Republicans of New York feel terribly outraged and indignant at the action of Winans, member of the Legislature from Chautaqua county The whole Republican press of the State unite in denouncing the perfidious and corrupt villain and it is believed that he will find it impossible to remain in the State Two days after he had taken the magnificent bribe from Tammany and betrayed the Republican party, the Republicans of his county sent him by express a package containing a Bible and a rope, with the following message,

O S WINANS—Member from the IId District Chautauqua County, Assembly Chamber, Albany N Y—O S WINANS We send you copy of the Bible and a strong rope Ask your friends if you have any, to assist you. Should you require [illegible] we will try and have you viewed from [illegible] and appoint you deserve

REPUBLICANS OF WESTERN NEW YORK

[illegible] Alcorn of Mississippi, has written a [illegible] to show that no interference by the United States authorities against the Ku Klux in that State is [illegible]. To prove this he points to the fact that only sixty-two murders have been committed in Mississippi since he became Go[illegible],—just one year ago That is moderate, indeed! This is one of the document relied on by Democrats to prove that the Ku Klux is a myth We should add that the New York Tribune prints a full list of the returns of inquests from the office of the Auditor of Mississippi, giving the name and residence of each victim murdered during the one year of Gov Alcorn's administration This list shows one hundred and three murders

This is the way the Cincinnati Gazette compares the receipts and expenditures of the National Government for the last two years of Andrew Johnson's administration and the two first years of Grant's term

Receipts A J	$664 40 442
Receipts, U G	749,399 4[illegible]
Gain for U G	84 994 050
Expenses A J	$450 043 [illegible]
Expenses U G	323 342 818
Decrease for U G	126,[illegible]00 949
Profit for U G	$211,694 599
Debt reduction by U G	204,[illegible]54 413

The San Francisco Chronicle says the trial of Mrs Fair cost that city not less than $12,000 But the people were repaid for the expense by a great many scandalous and impure developments, all of which were eagerly served up by the newspapers and as eagerly devoured by the people of that highly moral city No doubt they think the $12,000 well expended

Accepting the Situation

The New York World has a long article addressed to Southern Impracticables who insist on taking an appeal from the verdict of the war and fighting in the next election against the constitutional amendments It talks thus roundly to them

Blink it and shirk it as you may, confuse it as you will by cloudy irrelevance, the real point is whether the Democratic party will attempt to abolish negro suffrage in the Presidential campaign of 1872 When the question is thus nakedly put, not even General Blair, with all his intrepidity cares to face it He is too correct a judge of public opinion to entertain any hope that the Democratic party could win on that issue

Now, since the Democratic party is in this dilemma what are you of the Oregon Herald and you of the Albany Democrat and Eugene Guard going to do about it? You have all been preaching that the contest must be joined with Republicans on this very issue which the World declares will utterly swamp the Democratic party The World plainly declares that the Democrats would lose New York itself on this issue. Will you 'accept the situation by accepting the amendments and the results of the war or march to certain defeat

A few days ago the Democratic Senators and Representatives in Congress held a caucus at Washington, in which it was decided, as dispatches to New York papers assert, to issue a national address to foreshadow the platform of 1872 The account of the proceedings states that the address will set forth that Democrats have no desire to interfere with the fourteenth or fifteenth amendments but that they accept in good faith all the results growing out thereof The getting up of the address was left entirely to the 'conservative or 'policy' school of Democrats The point was made in caucus that unless this address and the management of the Presidential campaign were left entirely to Northern Democrats of "conservative" views, the party could have no hope of success

Here are some signs for "bed rockers,' like our neighbors of the Albany Democrat, to notice What says that paper? Will it lower its flag and accept the tame platform which is indicated by the New York World and this Congressional address? Or will it, and all others of pronounced views, reject these counsels and declare that there is no need of making a fight in 1872, if the great measures of Radicalism" are to be accepted at the start?

The "New Northwest"

The time was when a woman having somewhat to say to the public was at more disadvantage than now; Illiberality of opinion met her at the beginning of her efforts in this direction, and untriendly criticism was sure to say that she was stepping out of her "sphere ' Something of this illiberality yet remains, and occasionally manifests itself But the world in general has acquired sense and judgment enough to receive with respect what a woman has to say, even though she says it in a public lecture or through the columns of a newspaper. It has, at all events, learned that a woman, as well as a man, may have something to communicate to the public, and that it is her right to be heard while she expresses her opinions on topics that engross the public mind In this respect women and men now stand very nearly on common ground. Both can obtain an audience if they have anything to say. Neither will be listened to if they lack matter

This is preliminary to announcing the appearance of Mrs Duniway's paper, the New Northwest, the first number of which is issued this morning If any person has been supposing that this paper would be of a sensational character, filled with impracticable ideas and devoted to platitudes about what are called without much accuracy of definition, ' woman's rights, such person will find himself or herself mistaken The sheet before us is full of vigorous writing with a strong flavor of practical good sense We apprehend that Mrs Duniway in the course of a few issues of her paper will succeed in stating the woman question in a clear, full and spirited manner, so that if all are not convinced many will be disposed to listen

It any suppose that this is a "woman's paper' in the restricted sense in which that term might be applied to it as an advocate merely of woman suffrage, they will be disappointed again. Mrs Duniway does not write as if she considered the elective franchise the sum total of woman's demand Apart from this special subject—the woman question—there are vigorous articles on subjects of a general nature which would be in place in any good journal The paper is a fine specimen of typographical beauty

The Ku Klux Bill as Passed

The provisions of the bill to suppress disorders in the Southern States as passed by the House and signed by the President, may be summed up as follows First, conspiracies, or the combination of two or more persons to deprive any class of persons of equal protection of the laws, are defined as felonies, punishable in United States courts by fine and imprisonment, while the injured parties have recourse there for damages An amendment makes persons amenable to punishment who go in disguise on the public highway, or upon the premises of another, for the purpose, either directly or indirectly, of intimidating any person, Second, in case of obstruction to the laws of a State or the United States so as to deprive any person of any privilege, immunity, etc and the State authorities are unable or do not afford protection, or to apply to the President for protection, the President may use the national forces to arrest any offenders and hand them over to the United States courts Telegraphic dispatches announce that this act has already exerted a beneficial effect in intimidating the Ku Klux It is well, for they may be assured that the President will enforce it vigorously If Ku Kluxism do not speedily subside the entertainment will be likely to end with some platform and tight rope performances

The Herald scouts the idea that the corruptionists of the Tammany Ring had to pay a Republican in the New York Legislature $65,000 for his vote No doubt that figure does seem high, from the Herald's standpoint It cost the Democratic Ring of Oregon only $500 to buy the services of the Herald in support of the canal and locks swindle Which incident confirms what we said before, that the $65,000 paid to the despicable wretch who betrayed the Republicans in the New York Legislature would have bought a regiment of average Democrats

Few are aware of the magnitude of the production and sale of labor saving implements in connection with agriculture in this country It has been estimated that the farmers of the United States annually expend between two and three millions of dollars in reaping and mowing machines The annual production is now estimated at 125,000 machines

Pacific University

A College Commencement in Oregon must grow into importance as in older States A college is itself a growth, like an oak and it cannot be justly required in its sapling state to reveal the strength and vigor of the matured tree If it be found to possess the strength of such an oaken growth, we give it time and bid it extend with years and opportunities

Some who have watched this Institution for twenty years may have expected to see it spring up to towering pre-eminence at once, Others may have considered it an exotic, struggling in vain to live, and depending wholly upon foreign nourishment for support Both have been disappointed It is not yet massive and strong, still it has a vigorous life, sending its roots deeper for nutriment, as in native soil and extending its arms abroad more widely in the persons and influence of its graduates and representatives Its future would be assured, though no more aid should come from large hearted donors, but it has attained such conditions through the efficiency of its President and corps of Professors, and the integrity and wisdom of its several Treasurers, in the management of its funds, and the high aim and steadfast principles of the Board of Trustees, that intelligent and benevolent men have an increased disposition to add to its endowment, and thus enlarge its sphere of usefulness

Those who are familiar with its Academical, Preparatory and Collegiate course of study, which is now rigidly adhered to by the Faculty, will look less and less to Eastern Academies and Colleges, for a suitable Institution in which to educate their sons and daughters—ladies have an advanced course in this Institution

The lack of graduates at the commencement May 3d, is due in part to the high requirements now made upon students

The undergraduates must fit themselves for the advanced classes and for the final degree, or it will not be conferred Dr Lindsley spoke a good and stirring word for ' Integrity' in his address before the college, which was uptopos in this and many other respects It is useless and wrong to carry pupils along from class to class, and finally give them a degree to which they have not attained by diligent and careful study It is quite common to put applicants back to pursue for several terms the studies which they have been over until they can pass a thorough examination, and this will be done in the future if necessary to make the student master of his studies

The growth and honorable purpose and position of the college confer a like benefit on its alumni, and call for their recognition, by as much as it has evoked and stimulated and disciplined their own power Clear and true should the voice of children declare the fame of a cherishing mother, and on fit occasions return to their native home and do her reverence

The Jacksonville Times regards the action of Congressman Slater in introducing the ' Oregon Branch Railroad Bill ' as an act of "plain opposition to the expressed wish and will of the Legislature of the State, ' as expressed in the railroad resolutions adopted at the last session of that body It considers the bill inimical to the interests of Southern Oregon, and censures Mr. Slater for his conduct The people of Southern Oregon will yet realize their folly in allowing Senator Williams to be defeated on that issue.

Not long ago a gentleman had occasion to reprove his little son, aged four and a half years, for an offence which had on other occasions called forth words of correction The parent closed with, "Now, Willie I don t want to speak to you again about this,' which was promptly and very decidedly responded to as follows 'Well, pa I doesn t want you to ' There was nothing further to be said but the father has concluded that the boy needs watching

A miller had his neighbor arrested under the charge of stealing wheat from his mill, but being unable to substantiate the charge by proof the court adjudged that the miller should make acknowledgments to the accused "Well" says he, I had you arrested for stealing my wheat I can t prove it and I am sorry for it '

A French artist being asked to draw an allegorical figure of benevolence, carefully sketched a bit of India rubber "This,' said he, is the true emblem of benevolence it gives more than any other substance'"

Keep out of debt, out of quarrels out of damp clothes, out of reach of liquors out of thin clothes, and out of doors all you can in good weather.

On the door of the Chotopka House in Kansas, was recently posted the following notice "This hotel is closed on account of a difference between the proprietor and cook, which was settled with pistols, and sent the proprietor to the grave and the cook to the jail"

The Musical Standard says that Wagner's last work is an Imperial March in honor of the German victories and of the consolidation of the empire which has crowned the complete triumph of the Germans over their aggressive foe

CURRENT NOTES

Lyon, the Republican candidate for Associate Justice of the Supreme Court in Wisconsin, received a majority of 12 220 over his Democratic opponent

The street railways of Philadelphia last year carried 55 400,926 passengers During the year the accidents on the road footed up one person killed and five injured, four of the latter being passengers

New Orleans wants no more bequests from well meaning millionaires John McDonough's large bequest has gone into the pockets of the lawyers, the most of that bequeathed by John D Fisk was stolen by somebody else and the Girod bequest of $100 000 has dwindled to $20,000 and is still dwindling

The latest California crop is one of tarantulas They are raised in Calaveras county and are sold with their marvelous houses to Eastern tourists Their cells are totally unlike anything else in nature from three to eighteen inches deep, with a water proof lining coated over with a substance looking like chamois skin, but as fine as silk velvet with a door or lid which they close after them when they go in and when they have their young they latch it bolt it, and then seal it perfectly water tight They increase about one hundred and fifty fold annually

[illegible] S. J. McCormick's Lecture.—There was, [illegible] glad to say, a fine audience at Philharmonic Hall last evening to hear Capt. S. J. McCormick's lecture on "The Music and Poetry of [illegible]." The well known ability of the speaker and the agreeable entertainment which the subject in such hands was expected to afford, [illegible] attracted very many; but the cause for which the entertainment was given was the inducement of the attendance of, or purchase of tickets by many others. There were about [illegible] and we are informed about five hundred tickets were [illegible] for whose [illegible] the [illegible], receive a handsome sum. [illegible]'s Soiree Magique.—Mr. Bosco's [illegible] ent to-night promises to be really an [illegible] one. His programme contains some of [illegible] tricks and most perfect illusions known to [illegible] on, and many of them are entirely [illegible] this country. He proposes in the second [illegible] give an expose of several tricks practiced [illegible] magicians, which will be interesting to [illegible]. At the same time, he will explain [illegible] illusions and show how easy it is for the [illegible] eye in the world" to be deceived. A [illegible] merit of Mr. Bosco's performance is that [illegible] tricks without the aid of curtained [illegible] always close to the foot-lights. Some people think there was not a little self-assurance in that remark of Mr. Dennison's the other night, to the effect that he attributed his re-election as School Director to the fact that he discharged his duties with fidelity while in office before, and interpreted it as a renewed proof of confidence on the part of the District. This was cool, indeed, considering that he and Bob Ladd drummed a rabble who controlled the meeting and elected them. Knowing that they were not legal voters, they rejected a resolution to record the names of those voting, rushed the thing through and then went off to drink, doubtless at the expense of those whom they had elected. It was cool, too, considering that the voters of the District, when Mr. Dennison was re-elected, did not know that he had appropriated school money while in office before, which, it appears has not been accounted for.

"Gift Enterprise" Robberies.

[From the N. Y. Times.]

Human nature seems to gravitate toward those spots where chance and cheating are in partnership to capture simpletons. From the millionaire bulls and bears of Wall street, down through a long gradation to the poorest of penny-pitchers, the absorbing desire to get something out of nothing overmasters all other cravings, and stamps out all other and more honorable plans. And, by allowing themselves to be thus cheaply duped, men are kept in a chronic state of unrest and demoralization, and by the infection of their example scatter the contagion through the entire community. Because one has vaulted suddenly into wealth, over the backs of hundreds or thousands who, as suddenly, have sounded the depths of poverty, the insane greed of gold gets fast hold of all who knew the "lucky" individual, and a headlong rush is made to glean where the harvest has already been gathered. And, of course, the result is widespread disappointment, and, to many, ruinous loss.

A notable instance of this general anxiety to get rich without labor is exhibited in a grand "co-operative" scheme lately in full progress in a Broadway store. Without the indorsement of a name, either respectable or otherwise, this great fraud on the public offers one thousand dollars in prizes to the purchasers of three hundred thousand tickets, in the form of a raffle. Obviously two hundred and ninety-nine out of every three hundred tickets are predestined to draw blanks, or, to put it plainly, two hundred and ninety-nine thousand investors are guaranteed that they will be cheated out of their dollars. The performance began bravely enough on Monday, and it is asserted that a paltry half-dozen out of hundreds, perhaps thousands of gulls, drew a worthless picture or a cracked piano apiece. On the second day, the crowd of anxious ones increased, but the favors of fortune lagged far behind hungry expectation.

The lane was not so long, however, but that at last it had a turning, though not just the one to bring smiles to the faces of either the [illegible]ivers or their dupes. A young aspirant [for su]dden wealth, who had a Bowery cast of [counte]nance, and clearly was not deficient in [illegible] spirit, invested ten dollars, in the [confi]dent expectation that ten tickets would [bring] him all the luck there was in the wheel. [But] when, in rapid and ruinous succession, [the] wheel's revolutions returned him nothing [bu]t blanks, the idea struck him that possibly the whole affair was a robbery, and that the wheel contained nothing besides blank tickets. If this thought had only occurred to him before he had parted with his ten dollars, or a single ticket only had thus turned out, things might have remained in a satisfactory [sta]te for all parties concerned. But the speculator was indignant, and denounced the [sche]me as a fraud. Alleging loudly that there were no prizes provided for, while blanks were in bountiful supply, he had the [goo]d luck to put a prompt stop to the sale of tickets, and at the same time bring the revolving wheels of fortune to an ominous standstill. Then came an interesting tableau. The police were called in to perform the double duty of keeping the peace and examining the contents of the wheel. Meanwhile the [sale o]f tickets languished. The collapse [came] apace. Before night the whole concern was seized by the police, the performance stopped, and the proprietors arrested. [The] day's experiment upon public credulity probably filched five thousand or ten thousand dollars from the pockets of the deluded victims. The sudden suppression of [the sch]eme has, however, prevented a much larger loss of money on the part of thousands who could not have afforded to lose dollars. [And n]ow, may we not hope that some few [dupe]s will have learned wisdom from this last [failu]re of their attempt to get something out of nothing?

The Presidential Question.

[From the N. Y. Herald, April 19.]

The announcement is made in some of our exchanges that the leading wire-pullers in the [Demo]cratic party, including, it is alleged, the [illegible] sections, have effected a compromise [on th]e question of the Presidential nomination by laying aside Hendricks, Hoffman, Pendleton, Hancock, Gratz Brown and [illegible], and uniting upon Judge David Davis, of Illinois, now one of the judges of the United States Supreme Court, and a gentleman of superior attainments and great personal popularity in the West. The name of Gratz Brown is mentioned in connection with the nomination for Vice President, and it would undoubtedly add strength to the ticket. In these movements among the Democrats we observe a general desire to waive sectional prejudices and to go to work in earnest for a restoration of the party to national power. [In] Judge Davis they will find a sound states[man], and one not at all identified with those dead issues which some impracticable Democrats still desire to have attached, like barnacles, to the old Democratic ship. While the Democrats are thus planning the Republicans are wrangling; but the upshot of their difficulties will probably be a cordial union on [Genera]l [Grant] for a second term. But there [is a lo]ng interval of time between now and [the] contest; and the schemes of [the pre]sent hour may vanish like dew before the rising sun before the fight really begins. Meanwhile we trust all parties will act with moderation, and that the result of their deliberations will contribute to the prosperity and perpetuity of the republic.

They have a new circulating medium in [Utah]. A correspondent writing from Provo, [that] delectable Territory, tells of a case in [which a b]eau secured admission to a show for [him]self and sweetheart by passing in at the [door a] pumpkin. Moreover, the latter [being] worth more than the price of the [tickets, he] got two carrots as "change." The [writer] adds that several other persons secured admission by passing in chickens, eggs, butter and grain.

When Flourens heard that he had been sentenced to death, he addressed a letter to the [Presiden]t [of] France, which concludes as follows: "[I h]ave learnt, from a long experience [in public a]ffairs, that liberty is strengthened by the blood of martyrs. If mine can serve to wash out the stains from France and to cement the union of the country and of liberty, I offer it freely to the assassins of the country and the slaughterers of January. Health and fraternity, G. Flourens."

Probably those Cincinnati girls are not many. A number of them have organized a secret society, having for its object the investigation of the antecedents of wife-hunters. Any girl having an "offer" may apply to the society, and in less than a week she will receive a history of her lover from his youth upward. Weddings are likely to be scarce hereafter in Cincinnati.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

PORTLAND, Thursday, May 4, 1871.

Gold at New York, 111¼.

Currency quotations, at this city, 90½c buying; 91c selling.

Exchange—On San Francisco, ½ per cent.; on New York, 1½ per cent.

Telegraphic transfers, 1½ per cent.

Bank rates of interest on 30, 60 and 90 day 1 per cent.; outside rates range from 10 to 18 per cent per annum.

The money market has no new features. The supply is about equal to the legitimate demands. Silver coin is still in excess of other kinds, and is at a small discount in sums above twenty dollars.

The general appearance of business in mercantile circles continues very fair, a largely increased trade as compared with former years being maintained, though the season for spring sales is now far advanced. Taking all lines of goods into the account the aggregate of orders forwarded to the interior of the valley for the week is large, but not quite equal to the bulk for equal periods during the months of March and April. Trade with the country east of the mountains seems to be largely increased.

AGRICULTURAL GOODS are not yet in demand. Farmers are making a few inquiries, but as yet there are only few sales to report. During the week there have been shipped up the Columbia river, for Boise valley, a number of Buckeye reapers and mowers.

HARDWARE.—Trade continues good. The first buyers from the eastern side of the Blue mountains are laying in their summer stocks, which compensates somewhat for the comparative inactivity among Wallamet valley dealers. Prices remain unchanged.

DRY GOODS.—We have nothing new to report in this line. There is a fair business transacted at the figures hereafter quoted.

GROCERIES.—In this line our dealers are mostly busy, though the market is hardly so active as for the last month.

PRODUCE.—Wheat is in good demand and prices hardening. There is very little remaining in the country, and operations are consequently insignificant. For lots of good shipping grades the extreme quotations or even a little more might be obtained. Flour stands firm and with a rising tendency. Oats and feed are scarce and prices strong.

PROVISIONS.—Bacon and all kinds of meats are firmer than last week, with a good inquiry. Butter is easing off a little in favor of the buyer.

LAND DEPARTMENT

OREGON & CALIFORNIA RAILROAD

COMPANY.

SALEM, OREGON, October 22, 1870.

THE FOLLOWING STATEMENT IS MADE FOR information of all concerned:

First—Congress has granted to the Company all alternate sections of the public lands designated by odd-numbers within a distance of thirty miles on each side of the railroad, excepting lands to which a pre-emption or homestead claim had attached prior to the withdrawal by Government of the lands co-terminous with the first division of located line from East Portland to Jefferson, at 12 M. February 18, 1870. The second division of located line from Jefferson to a point six miles south of Roseburg, May, 1870, and from the last named point to the California line, 1870.

Second—Persons who have valid pre-emption or homestead claims to any tract on an odd numbered section can purchase the same from the Railroad Company at the Government price of $1 25 per acre in greenbacks, and upon very favorable terms, if they so desire, by filing an abandonment of their claim in the U. S. Land Office, blanks for which will be furnished by the Land Agent of the Company. Such purchase from the Company has these advantages over a purchase from the Government: The party can leave the land if necessary; he can sell the land or mortgage it; he is saved the payment of lawyers' or agents' fees, and expenses of witnesses to go to the Land Office to "prove up" his claim; he can get his title perfect in less time, and he can buy on credit at a low rate of interest.

Third—No sales will be made by the Company until the land is listed over to it by the United States Land Commissioner and Secretary of the Interior.

Purchasers are thus assured that the title they obtain is perfect. I. R. MOORES,
